ARMY CHAPLAINS.

WHEREAS, It has come to the knowledge of the Synod of Baltimore of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, that two vacancies now exist in the Corps of Chaplains of the Army,

Therefore, Resolved, That this body most respectfully requests that a Presbyterian Minister be appointed to fill one of these vacancies, and that the Rev. George Robinson, D.D., and Rev. Donald C. MacLeod, D.D., be hereby designated to prefer this request to the Secretary of War.

CHURCH ERECTION.

The Chairman of the Committee made the following report:

The Board of Church Erection during the year has aided more Churches in putting up houses of worship than in any year of its existence. The number aided was 164 and the entire amount appropriated was $113,600. This is an advance over the previous year in the number of churches aided of 45, and $50,000 or more than 73 per cent. in the amount appropriated. This is a gratifying increase and calls for thankfulness to the great Head of the Church.

From the organization of this Board, in 1845, a little over $5,000,000 have been collected and paid out in the work of the Board. The total receipts from all sources during the year have been $317,000 and the disbursements $300,000. This represents the work of erecting houses of worship and of loans and grants made for the erection of manses. In our own Synod of Baltimore during the year the Board has made grants to two churches—in the Presbytery of New Castle to the Church of Frankford for the erection of a manse, $600, and to the Church of Ballston in the Presbytery of Washington City for the erection of a Chapel at Arlington. In considering the work of the Board we must remember the thirty-eight church buildings that were destroyed or damaged by the disaster to San Francisco and neighboring towns, the demands of Porto Rico and Cuba. Our missionaries are welcomed in these islands and houses of worship must be provided for them.

And then the union with our Cumberland brethren enlarges our field by an addition of at least 2,500 congregations. This means a large increase in our contributions for church building. The Board of Church Erection holds an important place in the work of our Church and is closely related to the Sabbath School work of the Church and to the Home Missionary work. The Sabbath School colporteur goes into a community and organizes a Sabbath School; this opens the way for the Home Missionary to begin regular preaching services and then the Board of Church Erection steps in and aids in the erection of a house of worship. Half of the churches in their early history have been aided by the Board of Church Erection. Let us give this Board the same place in our affections and our prayers that we give to the other Boards of our Church.

CADETS AT ANNAPOLIS.

Your Committee on Church Attendance by Cadets at Annapolis would report that after many delays and interruptions, we, in company with the Chairman of the Committee from the Synod of Virginia, secured an audience with the Secretary of the Navy. He was courteous, attentive to our request and seemed interested. At his suggestion, we submitted a letter to him, in which we asked that the objectionable clause in the old regulations, which is as follows: "except upon their declaration in writing, with the written approval of their parents or guardians when minors, that they cannot conscientiously attend," be changed to read, "or, that as a matter of conscience, they feel under obligation to attend service elsewhere." This was submitted to the Superintendent of the Naval Academy, and instead of substituting the new clause it was tacked on to the old, and as such is now in force in the Naval Academy. It reads as follows: "except upon declaration in writing, with the written approval of their parents or guardians, when minors, that they cannot conscientiously attend, or, that as a matter of conscience, they feel under obligation to attend services elsewhere." This is not as much as your Committee had hoped to get, but we believe this is a decided gain on the old regulation, and hence have accepted it, and trust that it will be satisfactory to the Synod, and would accordingly ask that we be now discharged.

Respectfully submitted,

W. C. ALEXANDER, Chairman.

MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

The Chairman of the Standing Committee made the following report, which was accepted.

In the report of the Board to the last General Assembly we find some things to encourage in this report, some to make us thoughtful.

The past year was one of the best in the Board's history.

More money was received in the Board's Treasury than ever before; more churches contributed to this cause than ever before; more persons have been aided from this fund than ever before, and all this at a smaller percentage of cost than ever before.

Nine hundred and fifty-two names were on the roll of beneficiaries; of these 175 were in the H. R. list; 509 widows, 35 orphans.

One hundred and seven new names added last year. Sixty-three died.

Average amount granted to H. R., $287.71; average amount granted to widows, $150; average amount granted all, $188. These figures tell the story of the meagre relief afforded.

The entire amount in the hands of the Board for year was $240,863. Of this $99,043 came from 4,441 churches. 3,385 churches gave nothing to this Christ-like cause. Yet 90 more churches gave this year than last.

We may rejoice in this advance in number of contributing churches, and in the increased amount in the Board's Treasury for distribution, yet we must feel that there is good reason for serious thought, when we find that so many churches gave nothing, and that the means of relief is so small.

The churches of the Synod gave $3,912.

Your Committee can but express itself that, in their judgment, this cause has not appealed to the hearts and pocketbooks of the people as it should.

It is certainly a thing that ought to humble us that so large a number of the churches have given nothing to this cause, and that the gifts from them have been so meagre.

Your Committee recommends the following resolutions:

1. That Sessions of the several churches of the Synod be instructed to appoint an Elder, whose duty it shall be to aid in securing larger offerings to this cause.

2. That Synod demands that each Presbytery shall require every church that fails to make an offering to the Board to give reason for such failure, and that mere excuse of neglect be not sustained.

J. E. MOFFATT, Chairman.

COLLEGE BOARD.

The Standing Committee on this Board made a report with recommendations, and after an address by Rev. J. S. Dickson, D.D., Secretary of the Board, these resolutions were adopted:

The College Board has just completed its twenty-third year. In its last report to the Assembly of 1906, concluding the first year of work since its reorganization, it furnishes much cause for congratulation—in its widening influence and the response to its appeals with the results achieved.

Many churches and individuals have contributed for the first time, and many individuals have largely increased their gifts. There has been a large increase in the whole amount contributed to the Cause of Christian Education and several institutions have been greatly helped by extraordinary gifts. The Board announces that all grants have been paid—and no deficit is reported. Comparing the present year, 1905-06, with the past year it will be seen that in the number of contributing churches, 3,864, there was a gain of 271; contributing organizations, 251, there was a gain of 61; contributing individuals, 3,550, there was a gain of 2,294. The amount contributed by this Synod was $133.93.

The Christian College is necessary to maintain our denominational existence.

One of the divine prerogatives of the Church is to teach all nations—to observe all things commanded by Jesus Christ. Hence the authority for the school and the college at home and abroad. If the Presbyterian system of teaching is to be continued it must be done by trained men. Many statistics will show that these trained men are not provided by wholly secular institutions. They come mainly from our Christian Colleges. Ten years ago there was one candidate for the ministry for every 640 members. In 1905 there was one candidate for every 1,240 members. There has been a decided growth in our colleges in the number of candidates. Since 1903 the number in the Presbyterian Church has increased 20 per cent. Notwithstanding this increase the denomination has been dependent on others to furnish the quota of men required in the churches.

If we are to have an educated ministry the Christian College becomes a necessity. This board has shown that 84 per cent. of foreign missionaries come from Christian Colleges; 84 per cent. of home missionaries, and 80 per cent. of theological students are supplied by Christian Colleges.

Grove City College, Pennsylvania, undenominational but Christian, claims that "more young men enter the ministry from this institution than from any other college in the State." It is pointed out in the report of this Board that in 1897 there was not one candidate for the Presbyterian ministry in South California, and now there are (17) seventeen in the Presbytery of Los Angeles, after continued spiritual work in Occidental College—all graduates of that institution. Similar instances can be cited from the smaller colleges.

A great advance in co-operation with the Board has been secured in the conferences of educators—authorized by the Assembly in a mutual understanding as to the requirements that constitute a college—the standardization of the curriculum and the agreement on at least 144 hours of systematic study of the Bible during the course of four years. Great commendation is due to the noble men who, from loyalty to their Church and the cause of true education, remain faithfully at their posts at great sacrifice of pecuniary advantages and with compensation that is out of proportion to the invaluable service that is rendered. While all these institutions are greatly in need of endowments—in order to secure a complete equipment and to meet the current expenses—it is said that new fields are urgent, e. g., in Florida, Dakota, New Mexico and Colorado, as well as the Philippines.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

That the Synod expresses its commendation of the means employed by the Board in securing closer co-operation with the colleges in the conferences that have been held during the past two years, and of the efforts of the Board to enlist the interest of all the churches in the cause of Christian Education.

That the churches be urged to co-operate with the plans of the Board in its effort to secure the interest of those who are blessed with abundant means in furthering the endowment, and maintenance of our colleges.

That the individual churches shall be given an opportunity to contribute to this cause and that in preparation for that time, pastors are requested to preach a special sermon on Education Day, on the Sunday following the Day of Prayer for Colleges.

That an effort shall be made to meet the proportionate amount of increase in the gifts of the Synod in order to realize the aim of the General Assembly to raise $200,000 for the present year.

That in connection with the action of the Board of Education churches be recommended to observe the Day of Prayer for Colleges.

ARMY AND NAVY.

The Committee on Religious Work in the Army and Navy made a report through its Chairman, Gen. Chas. Bird, U. S. A., which was accepted, as follows:

The Synod's Committee on Religious Work in the Army and Navy submit the following report, which is fuller than usual, for the reason that it contains material that will in the future be of permanent record for the Synod.

There are four methods or plans of conducting religious work in the Army and Navy.

The first is the official one, Congress authorizing the President to appoint Chaplains from the different denominations. For the Army there are fifty-seven Chaplains, one allowed for each of the fifteen regiments of Cavalry, twelve for the Artillery Corps, and one for each of the thirty regiments of Infantry. These Chaplains are usually stationed at Regimental and Artillery Corps headquarters, where the largest number of men are stationed.

The spiritual welfare of the smaller garrisons is under the care of the Chaplains of their respective commands.

In the Navy there are twenty-four Chaplains. Fifteen of them are at present on duty at Navy Yards and Naval Stations; seven on cruising ships, and two unassigned.

The number of the Chaplains in the Army and Navy is below that required. There does not seem to be a desire to increase this corps in the Navy, because of the limited room for officers on the smaller ships, there being scarcely sufficient for the regular officers of the command.

Your committee believe that at most of the Chaplain Stations good work is being done, although no consolidated report of their action was obtainable.

The second plan by which our soldiers, sailors and marines are reached with the gospel message is through the churches and missions located in the vicinity of Military and Naval Stations. As a rule pastors of churches and leaders of missions not only visit and hold services at these Stations, but invite the men to attend their churches and missions. This is being done by ministers, Christian Endeavors and Missions in our own Synod. It is not uncommon to see soldiers and sailors in uniform at churches near their garrison.

There are very few commanding officers who do not extend a hearty welcome to ministers and Christian workers who desire to preach the gospel to their men.

The third plan is that organized by the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association through its military and naval branches. The first Young Men's Christian Association in the Army was organized at Fort Monroe, Va., in 1899 and existed alone until the Spanish War, when the International Committee was encouraged by Hon. Elihu Root, Secretary of War, to carry on active Association work in the Army and Navy, not only in foreign possessions, where men were in the field, but at home with men in the barracks. Secretary Root was instrumental in having Congress pass an Act authorizing the erection by private means of buildings for Association work at Military posts.

Three of these buildings have been erected and another is under construction. The erection of Post Exchange Buildings, authorized by Congress after the Canteen was abolished, has retarded somewhat the securing of funds from private sources for the erection of exclusive Young Men's Christian Association buildings, and the joint occupancy of the Post Exchange Buildings for Association work and their original purpose at many of the Posts has limited its usefulness. At some of the Military Stations, separate unused buildings have been assigned for Association purposes. There are now thirty-two stations in the Army where the Young Men's Christian Association is operating under the personal direction of a Chairman or Secretary. Twenty-two of these stations are in the States, one in Alaska, one at San Juan, P. R., seven in the Philippine Islands, and one in Pekin, China.

During the fiscal year of 1905 and 1906, at twenty-six of these points, twelve hundred and thirty religious meetings have been held with a total attendance of 42,438; at twenty-three of these points there have been 783 Bible Class sessions, with a total attendance of 10,704; from seventeen of these points, 207 professed conversions have been reported.

Twenty-two hundred and eighty-one men have signed the Young Men's Christian Association Union Temperance Pledge. Twenty-eight hundred and ninety-five men have pledged themselves to daily prayer and Bible reading. The Association work for our Legation Guard at Pekin, China, includes the soldiers of all nations stationed there.

Similar work is being carried on by the International Committee in the Navy, with stations outside of the Brooklyn Navy Yard gate, at Norfolk, Va., Newport, R. I., Philadelphia, Pa., and Vallejo, Cal. The Brooklyn Station has a most complete building erected by Miss Helen Gould, costing $450,000. At Vallejo, Cal., opposite the Mare Island Navy Yard, a fine building has been erected by a Naval Officer from his prize money. Plans have been approved for an up-to-date building at Norfolk, Va., for the benefit of our sailors and marines at the Norfolk Navy Yard, costing about $300,000, funds to be supplied by Mr. Rockefeller. There are also two Associations for the Navy in the Philippines, one at Cavite, and one at Olongapo, and during the past summer a work was organized at Cheefoo, China.

Officers of the Navy recognize the benefit of these Associations and advise their men when ashore to frequent these moral and religious resorts, rather than the dens of iniquity surrounding Navy Yards and Naval Stations.

From May 1, 1905, to April 30, 1906, at the Brooklyn, Norfolk, Newport and Vallejo Stations the attendance at religious meetings has been 20,877; at Bible Classes, 871; with church parties, 2,269; professed conversions, 1,212; Testaments distributed, 861.

Your Committee would also call your attention to the Association work being carried on among the Cadets and Midshipmen at West Point and Annapolis, the spiritual part of which the International Committee report is of a high order. At West Point a large percentage of the men are members of the Association and at Annapolis the Inter-State Secretary reports the work in a most flourishing condition. The spiritual training these young men are receiving at these Academies from the Chaplains and Associations must follow them during their Military career and stimulate them to further the religious work among the enlisted men. As far as your Committee can learn there exists perfect harmony between the Chaplains of both services and the Association Secretaries, so that by their combined effort great spiritual good is being accomplished.

The fourth plan is that organized by the Army and Navy League, referred to in last year's report. This League is composed of the wives and daughters of Army, Navy and Marine Officers, banded together to make the term of service of the enlisted men at Army and Naval Stations and on board of ships as pleasant as possible by adding to them features that are not supplied by the Government. These women have made it possible for the Chaplains to carry on their religious work by supplying them with musical instruments, Bibles, Hymn-books and other essentials, and ever stand ready to answer their call. During the past fiscal year 14 organs have been furnished, 8 Posts have been supplied with Hymn-books, 2 with Bibles. This League has purchased and furnished a fine building in Washington, and organized there the Soldiers', Sailors' and Marine Club, for use of these men when on leave in the city. Its attractions have been the means of keeping many men from the saloons and other bad resorts. Religious services are held each Sunday evening with good attendance. Last spring one of these meetings was led by President Roosevelt, at which time he examined the working of the Club and gave the women great praise for what they were doing.

Within our own Synod we have a number of Military and Naval Stations. In the Presbytery of Washington are Fort Myer, Va.; Washington Barracks, the Navy Yard, Marine Barracks and Fort Hunt and a sub-station on the Potomac. Three of these Posts have Chaplains. At Fort Myer an active Young Men's Christian Association has been organized, and good work at some of the Stations have been done by the Christian Endeavor Societies at Washington.

No definite information could be obtained regarding religious work at the Navy Yard and Marine Barracks.

There are four Military Posts and one Naval Station in the Baltimore Presbytery. They are Forts McHenry, Carroll, Armstead, and Howard, in Baltimore Harbor, and the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Reports from the three members of this committee on duty in the Baltimore Presbytery show that at Fort McHenry the Christian Endeavor Union at Baltimore, and the Young Men's Christian Association are holding religious services. Until recently there was a Chaplain at Fort McHenry. Forts Carroll and Armstead are so remote from the street car lines and can only be reached by boat with no transportation facilities has made it impossible for those who desire to hold services there. The Port Mission has a fine boat and includes these points in their Harbor work. Two of the members of the Committee in Baltimore have visited Fort Howard and find that religious services are conducted there by the Young Men's Christian Association and the Port Mission.

The Commanding Officer at Fort Howard was very much pleased with their visit, spoke very highly of those who were conducting ser-VICES there and wished very much that more religious work could be done among the officers and men of his command.

At the Naval Academy at Annapolis there is a Chaplain and a strong Young Men's Christian Association. The member of the Committee from Annapolis reports that some of the Midshipmen attend the churches in the town. The Sailors and Marines so often change Station that it is hard to reach them.

In the Presbytery of New Castle is Fort Dupont, where there is a Chaplain, but the member of the Committee from Delaware City reports that no religious services are held there, and but few of the men attend the churches in the town. He also reports that the objectionable resort at the entrance of the garrison referred to last year has been broken up, but the saloons are active and get most of the soldiers' money, and thinks it high time the churches and Temperance Societies should become practical in the matter and listen to the advice of Army Officers who know their business best.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. BIRD, Chairman.

THE DEACONESS HOME IN BALTIMORE.

The Committee made a report, which was accepted and adopted:

That a visit to the Home during its busy hours in the morning revealed a situation eliciting surprise and commendation. The Home is delightfully located in one of the charming residence neighborhoods, on Madison Avenue, corner Preston Street, Baltimore, in the center of three building lots, covering only one, with room for expansion as the demands justify. Over thirty rooms provide beautiful chambers for eighteen Sisters, with accommodations for the House Mother, and Class Rooms, with all the modern comforts of a home, conveniently arranged, with saloon parlors for such gatherings as public interest may require.

Rev. John S. Conning, Superintendent, welcomed us with cordial hospitality and made us feel at home in one of the class-rooms, where we found a dozen choice spirits, called Sisters, studying Theology under the Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Baltimore, who trains his class to high thinking on the greatest themes, while he leads the way to a most unrestrained freedom of discourse on the part of these consecrated servants of the Nazarene, who thus prepare to meet the most profound questions as they move here and there, among the high and the low, though they are still "not suffered to teach" in the churches. Dr. Guthrie challenged them to absolute freedom in questioning and debate, not undertaking to solve all their difficulties, much less to answer all their questions. The atmosphere was one of quiet, cheerful, earnest, serious study, but no suggestion of restraint, or hardship, or even self-denial. We saw a happy band of consecrated women studying Theology.

Dr. Guthrie gave place to Dr. Robert P. Kerr, of Northminster Church, who outlined a course in "The Apostolic Age," by Purves, which will be their text book this season. Dr. Kerr's special studies in Church History, and wide reading and extensive travels promise a most interesting course, and his services last year assure a most profitable season with his class.

We were too late to hear Dr. Duncan M. Buchanan, of Lafayette Square Church, as he opened his course, but the class assured us that he made it easy for them to follow his New Testament studies.

The impression made upon the Committee was that a School of the Prophetesses had arisen, almost without our knowledge, and an outline of the course, with a list of the Instructors is submitted, in justification of this high claim.

Subjects: Apologetics, Apostolic Age, New Testament Studies, Christian Sociology, Use of the Bible, Preparation and Delivery of Addresses, Church Organization, Parish Work, Diaconics, Life of Christ, Christian Doctrine, Church Government and the Sacraments, Comparative Religions, Nursing, the Shorter Catechism.

Instructors: Donald Guthrie, D.D., First Church, Baltimore; Harris E. Kirk, D.D., Franklin Street Church, Southern Presbyterian; Robert P. Kerr, D.D., Northminster, Baltimore; John P. Campbell, D.D., Faith Church; W. W. Shaw, Govanstown; Duncan M. Buchanan, Lafayette Square; John Stuart Comings, Superintendent.

A three months' course of Hospital training fits them for some of the tender ministry of the sick room, while they make no claim or preparation for nursing.

A social hour at the mid-day repast brought us into immediate touch with the Sisters themselves, and it was spent in such flow of spirits, with eager questions and frank replies as would fit us for an intelligent grasp of their methods, and then their snug, tidy, even beautiful rooms, drove away the last suspicion of asceticism, or even hardship. Every room is an outside room, all are convenient to such comforts as make life easy, and from such a home they go out to see the reverse of the shield and then return, to its pure, sweet, home-like atmosphere, and to their own single rooms, where alone with God they reach the Bethel of their faith.

The longer we lingered the more we were impressed that a great work is being done, and a greater one is our prophecy for the future.

In its brief history, only one class has gone out, "thoroughly furnished unto every good work," though each day is devoted to some part in that service to which they are looking as under careful guidance they are led here and there, seeking in order to save.

We were greatly interested in hearing of work actually done, aiding the Pastor in his parish work, doing much that it were impossible for him to do, supplementing his efficient labors, where the field is too large to be covered by one man, unaided, and in church work introducing most intelligent and efficient help-meets.

The Committee would emphasize the great need of such workers as this Home provides, and that calls for larger gifts and more Deaconesses be echoed throughout the Synod.

We feel impelled to ask that it be put upon the list as one of the regular benevolent agencies of our churches, that collections may be made and information given at times, as to the nature and necessity and exceeding great reward of such service.

The enlargement and development of this work in Baltimore, by all the churches of the Synod, will give impetus to this new field of Christian Endeavor throughout our whole Church, until the apostolic idea and the Apostolic Office shall be grafted on the Church in its latter day glory.

Resolved, That our churches be urged to consider the opportunity of very great usefulness in the Master's service, as exemplified in the Deaconess Home in Baltimore, with a view of enlisting the generous support of those seeking some open door of opportunity for Christian Benevolence, aside from the regular Boards of our Church, and to this end that a day be set apart for presenting this work and a place named in our schedule of beneficences, for securing money for its enlargement and intelligent workers who will train for this service.

H. BRANCH,

W. F. DICKENS-LEWIS,

N. H. MILLER,

Committee.

AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY.

The Synod has listened with interest to the report of the American Tract Society, by Rev. Judson Swift, its Field Secretary, and rejoices in its abundant labors, and hereby renews its commendation of former years, recognizing that the Society's work is indispensable in creating and circulating Christian literature in the languages and dialects of the immigrants coming in unusual numbers to our shores.

The Synod appreciates the invaluable service of the Tract Society in the Island Possessions, where it provides a Christian literature in Spanish, without which, the missionaries could not successfully carry forward their work.

The Synod further recognizes that in foreign lands the Christian literature branch of missions is not adequately supported, and calls the attention of both pastors and churches within its bounds to the need of a greatly increased supply of literature at the foreign mission stations.

The Synod recommends the appointing and maintaining of a standing Committee in each Presbytery on the work of the Tract Society, where such action has not already been taken, and in the language of the General Assembly "earnestly urges that each of our churches make an annual and liberal offering for the support of the work of the American Tract Society."

PUBLICATION AND S. S. WORK.

The Committee on Publication and S. S. Work made a report, which was accepted, and an address was delivered by Rev. James A. Worden, D.D., the Secretary of Sabbath School Work. The report follows:

Your Committee would refer you to the minutes of the General Assembly for statistics of this Board—read them and ponder well—it will do you good.

So far as your chairman is able to ascertain from the minutes, there has been a net gain of about 800 in the Sabbath School membership of our Synod. New Castle Presbytery shows a loss, but this is accounted for by the fact that Hanover Sabbath School was credited last year with 700 members, and this year with 42—the correct number is about 250.

A gain of 800 is gratifying; we should be thankful for small things, but this is an average of only $5\frac{1}{3}$ to each school.

Should we be satisfied with such a small average?

Some schools have made large gains, while others have lost, but ought we not gain more than 3 per cent. in our membership?

The natural increase of children from the membership of the church itself ought to exceed this per cent. Something must be wrong somewhere; now where is it?

How many of you have studied your Sabbath School roll to find out what your school is doing?

Your chairman does not believe that the importance of Sabbath School work is sufficiently realized by the pastors in general. We believe it a part of the pastor's work to keep in close touch with the work in the Sabbath School and not to delegate this department entirely to others, no matter how trusted the officials may be.

The future of Presbyterianism is bound up largely in the Sabbath School membership—perhaps you do not realize this. If this is true, then we must see that the members of the school are properly instructed in the Word of God and in the doctrines of our beloved Church.

Our Sabbath School members ought to learn what the Presbyterian Church stands for—what influence it has had on the history of our country and the world. But the children cannot be properly instructed in Scripture truths and in the doctrine and history of our Church unless the teachers themselves are properly equipped.

Why not start a teachers' training class in your school, if you have not already done so?

Would it not pay, and pay richly? Take charge of it yourself and you will find that it will be the best investment of any hour of the week. Children in other schools are being taught the doctrine of their Church, and shall not we who have such a rich and noble history let it be known? Recommendations amount to very little; we shall therefore refrain from offering any at this time.

But let us urge each pastor in this Synod to study his school carefully—exercise his office of shepherd—and see if we cannot improve the work greatly this coming year; let us report to the next Assembly an increase in membership of at least 3,000—which would be an increase of but little over 10 per cent.

Above all, let us lead these little ones to Christ and into the active work of the Church.

Respectfully submitted,

R. L. HALLETT, Chairman.

MINUTES OF THE PRESBYTERIES.

The Committees on the Minutes of the Presbyteries of Baltimore, New Castle, and Washington City reported, recommending their approval. The report was adopted.

The stated clerk reported that the Minutes of the Synod of 1905 had been approved by the General Assembly without exception.

PRESBYTERIAN BROTHERHOOD.

Rev. DeWitt M. Benham, Ph.D., of the Committee on Presbyterian Brotherhood, addressed the Synod, in regard to its object and work. Jonathan C. Day, representative of the committee, addressed the Synod. The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That Synod appoint a Standing Committee on the Brotherhood for the purpose of fostering in whatever ways may be expedient organized work for men in our churches. This Committee to be composed of three ministers and three elders. (For Committee see list of Standing Committees.)

NARRATIVE OF THE STATE OF RELIGION.

The Committee presented the following :

In writing a Report on the State of Religion, one is confronted at the outset with a difficulty. Generally speaking, the gist of such reports lies in their statistics. And yet, when we are dealing with spiritual matters, that is precisely what we must not rely upon. One cannot but remember the incident of the disciples coming to the Master with their question as to the number of those who should be saved. And in His answer He gave them to understand such matters were in the hands of our Heavenly Father, but, said He, "Strive to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven."

Figures are by no means always what they seem, and we should beware of being overmuch influenced by them. We knew a church which some years ago added twenty to its membership. To-day five of these are active helpful Christians; the others are only a source of weakness to the church. The Kingdom of God cometh not with observation. Nevertheless in our present conditions the principles of earthly arithmetic are still most potent, and it seems difficult to avoid repressing the net results of our work in material terms.

Looking around our churches, therefore, from that standpoint we find in these two Presbyteries a net gain of one church organization. In the Washington Presbytery two churches were consolidated forming the new "Northminster" Church. In the Baltimore Presbytery two new churches were organized; that of Arlington, in the west suburbs of Baltimore, and Southminster, in South Cumberland. The net gain in membership for Baltimore Presbytery was 538, for Washington City 451; the total membership of the two Presbyteries being now 22,111.

Judging from the attendance at our weekly Prayer Meetings, our Christian people seem hardly to realize the need or appreciate the privilege of this gathering for prayer in the midst of the week. Some of our churches rejoice in an excellent spirit amongst their members in this matter, one reporting an average attendance of 250, but for the most part the number of those present is pitifully meagre.

Some of our pastors are beginning to realize the supreme importance of the work of the Sabbath school in the church. We owed 378 of our new members to the scholars of our Sabbath School during this last year. Yet in the total number of Sabbath School scholars in the two Presbyteries there was only a net gain of 30. The present membership in the two Presbyteries is 11,886; more than 10 per cent. of these being credited to one of our church Sabbath Schools in Baltimore. There can be few better investments of a pastor's time than the part devoted to the interests of the Sabbath School.

Societies amongst the women of our churches are still well organized and effective; and we are especially glad to notice the increase in the number of Men's Societies. We have no doubt that, taking into account the present interest in this matter of a Presbyterian Brotherhood, this increase will continue. Provided that these societies be kept in close touch with the spiritual life of our church, we believe that they will prove a splendid addition to our working forces.

The Benevolences have been well sustained, and in some cases the gifts for missions notably increased. One church, hitherto dependent, has reached self-support during the year.

Looking out over the whole field one sees much both to discourage and encourage; and sometimes finds it hard to balance the two. Probably many of you have read references to a symposium in one of the great London dailies, 'The Daily Express,' as to whether English life was more or less religious than a generation ago. Well-known men, public officials, authors, church dignitaries and others took part in this correspondence. It was suggestive to note that out of all who wrote, only two prominent men, Bishop Wilberforce, of the Church of England, and Sir A. Conan Doyle, the famous author, took an optimistic view. It might be an expression of opinion on the same question as to our own country might have similar results. Undoubtedly materialism is sweeping as a great tidal wave over our land. Material success, material comfort, material well-being, is the horizon bounding the hopes of the great majority. If this is so—and who will gainsay it?—surely, brethren, all the more need for the full, free, faithful proclamation of a life which is more than raiment which sweeps away this material horizon and opens up the way to the Kingdom of God. The outlook may be dark at times; let us remember we are servants of a King who goes forth conquering and to conquer; that we are dealing with promises which are not simply possibilities or even probabilities, but which are 'yea' and 'amen' in Christ Jesus.

WILFRED W. SHAW, Chairman.

The Synod honored the memory of deceased members by receiving sketches of their lives and work, and ordered them to be placed in the permanent records:

In Memoriam

REV. JOHN EATON, B.D., LL.D., was born in Sutton, New Hampshire, December 5, 1829, and died at Washington, D. C., February 9, 1906, in his seventy-seventh year. He had a long and noteworthy record of public service as a clergyman, soldier, journalist and educator. After spending the years of his boyhood at the district school and at work upon his father's farm, teaching school at sixteen, he worked his way through Thetford Academy and Dartmouth College, graduating in 1854.

In 1859 he entered Andover Seminary as a student for the ministry. In September, 1861, he was ordained to the Gospel Ministry and appointed Chaplain of the Twenty-seventh Regiment of Ohio Volunteers. In 1862, General Grant appointed him superintendent of contrabands, and later general superintendent of freedmen for Mississippi, Arkansas, West Tennessee and Northern Louisiana. Chaplain Eaton was made Colonel of the Sixty-third Regiment of Colored Infantry and was afterward breveted brigadier general.

In March, 1870, he was appointed United States Commissioner of Education, and during ten years' service in that capacity the bureau grew in favor and power. He afterwards became president of Marietta College and also served in the same capacity in the Sheldon Jackson College, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Since 1891 he has resided in Washington engaged in valuable literary work, his last public service being the organization of a school system in Porto Rico, the fitting close of a long and honorable career in the educational service of the country. He received the degree of LL.D. from Dartmouth College and Ph.D. from Rutgers College.

He was highly esteemed in the church as an adviser and enjoyed the affection of his brethren in the Ministry. If the great man is he whose reliance in truth, in virtue and in God is most unfaltering, then the subject of this sketch was a great man.

Such men never die. He has only passed from this sphere to another and the great loss and deep sorrow thus occasioned finds relief in pleasant memories of the past and anticipation of a reunion in glory where there is fullness of joy and pleasures forevermore.

JOSEPH TATE SMITH, D.D., LL.D., Pastor Emeritus of the Central Church, Baltimore, Md., died in Harrisburg, Pa., at the residence of his son, Rev. Ritchie Smith, D.D., in the eighty-seventh year of his age.

Joseph Tate Smith, D.D., LL.D., is the name enrolled on our books, and as such he was known from his ordination, in 1842, until his translation, April 11, 1906. We do not know his name now, for a white stone has been given him, and upon it a new name written, which no man knoweth but he that receiveth it. Ye are his joy and his crown. They that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever.

Know ye not that there is a Prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel? God enabled such a man to fill out the measure of his days in such exceptional service as fall to the lot of few men, and who stamped the impress of his character upon his day, so that four generations rise up and call him blessed. His fourscore years were not labor and sorrow, for his bow long abode in strength and at evening it was light with him. He met the call of his Master in every condition of life, numbering among his friends, as well as his parishioners, the high and the low. Whether he knelt at the bedside of the sick and the dying or wielded the gavel as the Master of Assemblies, in the highest Court of the Church, he was at his best in either place, a man thoroughly furnished unto all good works, approved unto God, a workman that needed not to be ashamed rightly dividing the Word of Truth.

The Presbytery delighted to honor him as her standard bearer, by frequently commissioning him to the General Assembly, and always in cases of exceptional difficulty or responsibility, and she now claims the privilege of embalming his memory with this simple tribute:

"His ready smile a parent's joy expressed,
 Their welfare pleased him, and their cares distrest:
 To them his heart, his love, his griefs were given,
 But all his serious thoughts had rest in heaven,
 As some tall cliff that lifts its awful form
 Swells from the vale and midway leaves the storm,
 Though round its breast the rolling clouds are spread,
 Eternal sunshine settles on his head."

Joseph Tate Smith was born in Mercer, Pa., November 6, 1818, graduated from Jefferson College 1837, studied Theology privately, was ordained by the Presbytery of Erie, April, 1842, pastor in Mercer, Pa., 1842-1849; Second Church, Baltimore, 1849-1860; Professor in Danville Theological Seminary, 1860-1862; Pastor Central Church, Baltimore, 1862-1893; Pastor Emeritus till his death. He was Moderator of the General Assembly 1887. He died in Harrisburg, Pa., April 11, 1906.

"REV. CHARLES BENJAMIN RAMSDELL, D.D., son of Henry W. and Charlotte (Burnett) Ramsdell, was born June 12, 1843, in New York City, and died in Washington, D. C., June 4, 1906, while pastor of the North Presbyterian Church. His paternal ancestors were New England sea captains. His maternal uncle was Gen. Ward B. Burnett, who commanded the Thirty-first Regiment New York Volunteers in the war with Mexico.

"In 1857 his family removed to Indiana and in 1858 to Nebraska City, where he was employed in the Surveyor General's office for three years. Coming East in 1861, he was with the army in responsible positions until the close of the civil war.

"He was in charge of the Marine Hospital Service for two years, and in 1868 resigned, going to Yale College, where he graduated in 1872. He was one of the editors of the Yale literary magazine. Spending one year at Princeton Seminary he completed his theological studies at Union Seminary in New York City, graduating in 1875.

DIRD MUCH FOR CHURCHES.

"The summer of 1874 he was in charge of the Congregational Church at Winterport, Me., and in 1875 in charge of the Congregational Church at North Wolfboro, N. H. He was ordained and installed pastor of the North Presbyterian Church, Washington, D. C., December 13, where he remained until his death. During his ministry he not only cared for his own congregation, but organized or fostered five other churches and one mission within the bounds of the Presbytery of Washington. He was honored with many positions of trust in connection with the work of the Presbyterian Church of the United States.

"He was the Republican candidate for the chaplaincy of the House of Representatives, Fifty-first Congress, being defeated by only a few votes by Dr. Milburn.

"In 1896 he reorganized New Windsor College, under Presbyterian auspices, and was acting president for three years."

JOHN EMORY WHEELER, D.D., Pastor of Mt. Paran, Granite and Randallstown Churches, Baltimore County, Md., died in the Manse at Harrisonville, Baltimore County, Md., November 22, 1905. John Emory Wheeler was born in Alexandria, Va., sixty-three years ago. At the age of sixteen he confessed Christ as his Saviour. His education began in his native town and was prosecuted at Randolph-Macon College, Princeton Theological Seminary and Yale University. He was licensed to preach the Gospel at Washington, D. C., by the Presbytery, Dr. Gurley, Moderator. His first charge was at Wytheville, Va., but in a short time the war between the States occurring, he was ordained in 1864, at Enterprise, Miss., to serve as Chaplain in the Confederate Army, attached to Col. Morrison's regiment on the staff of Gen. Steven D. Lee. For three years Dr. Wheeler served as Chaplain, passing through a number of battles and was in Vicksburg during the memorable siege of that city. In 1862 Dr. Wheeler married Miss Mary Immanuel, the gifted and accomplished daughter of Dr. Immanuel, of Vicksburg, Miss. She survives him, together with three daughters and one son. After the war he was Professor in Oakland College, Mississippi, and pastor of the Rodney Presbyterian Church. From Rodney he was called to be the Assistant Pastor of Dr. T. V. Moore, First Church, Nashville, Tenn., the largest church of the denomination in the South. Dr. Moore's health failed and he soon died, leaving Dr. Wheeler in full charge.

Leaving Nashville he was pastor, successively, three years at Sedalia, Mo.; Independence, Mo., thirteen years; Sacramento City, Cal., five years. After this last pastorate he was Professor of Homiletics for two years in San Francisco Theological Seminary, then pastor in Merced, Ca., three years.

His health being impaired, he returned to the East and undertook pastoral charge of the three churches in Baltimore County, Md., where he labored until his end, which came peacefully November 22, 1905.

One half hour was spent in devotional service conducted by Rev. J. S. Gilfillan.

At 12:30 Synod took recess until 3 p. m.

At 2:30 the Synod was received by President Roosevelt at the White House.

At 3 p. m. Synod resumed business.

FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The Standing Committee on Foreign Missions made a report, through the Chairman, which was accepted. The Synod was addressed by Rev. A. W. Halsey, D.D., Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions.

The salient facts as to Foreign Missions that demand the attention of Synod are two:

I. Our Board is in debt over $100,000.

II. The General Assembly has asked an advance of one-third all along the line of gifts, in order to cancel this debt and to undertake new work that is immediately urgent.

The debt was not rashly incurred, but came with the providential necessity of expansion. In an enterprise of Christian faith, such as is Foreign Missions, though conducted on the soundest business principles, expenditures beyond resources are sometimes inevitable. When such expenditures arise from the manifest divine blessing on our sowing, and are incurred in harvesting crops that would otherwise perish, they call not for censure of our Board, but for gratitude to God.

Can we reach this unparalleled advance? With so many other good causes needing large and ever-enlarging gifts, can we add one-third to our offerings for Foreign Missions? We speak not of the church at large, but of this Synod. We gave last year (see Minutes of General Assembly) $34,582. This is $1.19 per member, as against 91c. per member for the whole church. But these figures are very misleading and do great injustice to the many generous men and women in our congregations, who, alas, are not communicants, but are givers, and to whose interest and liberality this work of Foreign Missions, and all other good works, including the support of our local churches, are so deeply indebted. Our gifts should always be credited, not to our communicants alone, but to all our people.

That we have more money to give in order that the world may be evangelized is beyond question. That our people are willing to give more if properly informed and enthused can scarcely be doubted. No year was ever more opportune for an effort to make a large advance. This 70th year of our Board; this 200th year of our church in this land; this 100th year of American Foreign Missions, should and shall be memorable.

Japan, that Foreign Missions so largely figured in awakening; China, that is coming to itself and into its own with startling rapidity; Korea, obliterated politically, but looming larger religiously; Africa, still largely a terra incognita, but where promise quickly becomes fulfillment; indeed, every land where healing for the body, enlightenment for the mind and a rational faith for the spirit go hand in hand;—all are ample rewards for labor done, and loud calls to labor to be done. One needs only to know the facts to be a giver, a doer, an enthusiast for Foreign Missions.

It is the duty of pastors, elders, Sunday School superintendents and teachers, all leaders in our churches, to give the facts to old and young, to believe in this work so warmly as to kindle fires in hearts now cold; to practice and preach self-denial in working and giving, and thus to exalt to the rightful supremacy this answer of our Saviour's redeemed people to His great permission to give all men our own chief treasure, the blessed gospel of pardon, peace and love.

TEUNIS S. HAMLIN, Chairman.

EDUCATION.

The Standing Committee of the Board of Education, through its Chairman, Rev. W. F. Dickens Lewis, made a report, which was accepted, and its recommendations adopted. This is the report:

A high standard of Education is one of the bulwarks of the Presbyterian Church and a well-manned Board of Education is an essential factor for the equipment of such a ministry. The attitude of our church regarding an educated ministry, as we apprehend it, is that of noble character, high scholarship, studious habits, and a devout piety, seasoned with good common sense. This naturally means culture for the highest type of the ministry and evangelism for all men. Without the former the latter is as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal, without the latter the former is as dead drift-wood.

The church, through its Board of Education, has many interesting problems to solve during this and the coming years. One is the feasibility of transferring to the Board of Education of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. the property and trusts belonging to the Educational Society of the now extinct Cumberland Presbyterian Church. It is gratifying to know that through a court of competent jurisdiction such a transfer of the property and assets of the Cumberland Educational Society will be entirely practicable. In the transfer is included an order providing that, on conveyance as aforesaid, the charter of the Educational Society of the Cumberland Church shall be revoked and its corporate existence ended and made void. Furthermore, this problem is solved by the fact that the Cumberland Church accepts our high standards and emphasizes to-day as second to no other interest of the church the vast importance of an educated ministry. "With the coming of this new order of things," as Dr. Darby, the late Cumberland educational secretary, writes, "we may expect that throughout the large field occupied by the Cumberland Presbyterians the next generation of ministers shall surpass in usefulness and effective service those that have preceded them, and there will be increased prosperity in every department of church work."

One of the vital problems before the Board is the educating of medical missionaries. The Board of Education believes that such men, who do not feel that they have received a specific call to the ministry, should, nevertheless, be under the direct influence of the church in a course of study at the completion of which they are more than ready and willing to give their scientific services for the healing of the sick and the advancement of the Kingdom of Christ, in what is known to-day as "Medical Missions," a most important factor in the evangelization of heathendom. In addition to these problems the Board is filled with a degree of commendable joy at the admirable results its work is bringing among our foreign-tongued candidates. This is especially worthy of note in the Presbytery of Baltimore. Formerly the German-speaking candidate was all with which our Presbyteries had to deal. Now the Presbyteries are called upon to examine stranger-tongued men, such as Spaniards, Italians, Scandinavians, Bohemians, Magyars and others. The importance of continuing this work will be further enhanced by the assimilation of a large body of immigrants who yearly come to our country, as loyal American citizens, as Christian men and women and D. V. as Presbyterian communicants. Another problem which we pastors must help to solve! It came up before the last General Assembly: "We learn with gratification (and this is the problem) of the new efforts of the Board to reach the students of the State Universities and other non-denominational colleges. These institutions are attracting large numbers of our Presbyterian youth and they should be followed as far as possible, with the same loving care that they would receive at home or in our own colleges. The church has too long neglected this duty, and we are rejoiced, therefore, to hear that the Board's Committee of Visitation has included these institutions in its plan."

Reference to the General Assembly's Report for last year shows only too plainly what our branch of the Church of Christ is commissioned to do along the line of Ministerial Education. We can hardly imagine a work more important than fully equipping men to preach the gospel of the Son of God, and in our three Presbyteries with our more than twenty-five candidates for the ministry of all nationalities we should make a decided effort to secure increased gifts toward the education of men for that which is the holiest of all orders. We need not weary the Synod with cumbersome statistics. But it is well worthy of note that this Synod contributed $41.59 more, this year, to this important Board than it did the year previous, although as bursaries for its candidates it drew from the treasury of the Board $1,121.55 more than it contributed. The Presbytery of Washington contributed $401.27 as against a greater amount of $456.35 for last year, New Castle, $505.54, as against the lesser amount of $419.76, for the last year and the Presbytery of Baltimore contributed $471.64, as against the lesser amount of $460.75 for last year. The total amount of our Synodical offerings to this Board during the past year was $1,378.45, being $41.59 of an increase over last year. Surely our church hardly realizes the important work that this Board is doing, when we compare her contributions to the other Boards. It is but right then that we should expect this Synod to contribute at least to the Board an amount equivalent to that which it draws from its treasury. "There is no line of benevolence," as the late beloved secretary of the Board, Dr. Hodge, was wont to say, "that brings with it the assurance of the Divine blessing more than that which seeks to train, equip, baptize and consecrate men for the gospel ministry."

Of such paramount importance is this work that the Board wants the ablest and best youths of the church to consecrate themselves to be our future preachers and pastors.

Let us remember that the Board of Education does not support these young men. It only helps them. We are glad that the contributions and legacies of the Board are such that our students in college will be able to get again this year $100. It ought to be $150. Your committee would present the following recommendations:—

(1.) That we adopt the following minute in regard to the death of Rev. Edward B. Hodge, D.D., late secretary of the Board: "In sorrow we record the death of Rev. Edward B. Hodge, D.D., for so many years the able secretary of the Board of Education. With the solicitous care of a father he sought to know and relieve the needs of the young men in preparation for the gospel ministry. His broad policy in outlining and administering the affairs of the Board aimed to prepare a ministry which should meet all the demands of our varied population. He saw the great tide of immigration into the United States and knew that it would be necessary for the Presbyterian Church to train men who would give the foreigner the gospel in his own tongue. He knew that we could not wait for the immigrant to become Americanized before he should be Christianized. His sympathies went out to all classes of men.

"Just before his death he told the General Assembly how he had been praying for an open door through which the Jewish population of this country might be reached; and he felt that his prayers was being answered. In Dr. Hodge's death we are bereaved of a faithful servant of the Lord Jesus Christ, an intelligent executive officer, a devoted friend. His work is done and he has entered into his rest, and shares in the joy of his Lord. It is our prayer to-day that the Master may guide the church in selecting a worthy successor to this saintly man."

(2.) That we urge pastors and sessions to present to congregations committed to their charge the work of the Ministry, the claims of the Board and the necessity of an increase to its funds and legacies.

(3.) That the support of their own candidates, in addition to their regular offerings, be undertaken by our stronger churches.

(4.) That candidates under the care of this Board be urged to take their course of study in institutions that are in sympathy with the standards of our historic church.

(5.) That the Sessions of our Churches be urged to observe the day of Prayer for colleges.

W. F. DICKENS LEWIS.

Rev. Dr. T. S. Hamlin offered the following overture to the General Assembly:

The Synod of Baltimore very respectfully overtures the venerable General Assembly to take action at its next meeting to consolidate the Board of Education and the College Board under the comprehensive and accurate title of The Board of Education. Adopted.

COLLEGE VISITATION.

The committee to visit the colleges within our bounds made a report, which was accepted, and is as follows:

Delaware College was visited by Rev. John McElmoyle, a member of the committee, who was well received by the President, and addressed the students. The President is a Christian and will help students who are preparing for the ministry. The President of New Windsor College is a member of this Synod and reports three students are preparing for the ministry in our church. This is a distinctively Presbyterian College and should have the support of the Synod.

WHEREAS, The plan of an Endowment for the Rehoboth, Md., Presbyterian Church having been approved by the Presbytery of New Castle, the Synod of Baltimore and the General Assembly; therefore,

Resolved, That such steps as may seem necessary be taken at once to complete said Endowment of Ten Thousand ($10,000) Dollars.

TEMPERANCE.

The Standing Committee on Temperance, through its Chairman, Rev. T. Chalmers Easton, D.D., was presented and accepted, and its resolutions were adopted. Rev. J. M. Fulton, D.D., Secretary of the Assembly's Committee, delivered an eloquent address on behalf of the cause.

The report is given, in part, as follows:

Your Committee in reviewing the latest reports from the three Presbyteries that compose this Synod find much to encourage us to believe that a spirit of loyalty prevails in all our Churches to the Temperance movement, some, however, more aggressive than others as opportunity presents itself, as in those States where the citizen has the privilege of exercising his rights as an American citizen at the ballot-box. The District of Columbia has an Excise Board, that grants licenses freely, for a given sum, and our only protection here at the nation's Capital is in the legal protests of the "Anti-Saloon League" that contests nearly every application for license. The Presbytery of Baltimore reports, "The outlook is promising. The last General Assembly of Maryland passed many temperance bills, though mostly of a local nature. The reports from the churches indicating interest in the work done by the 'Anti-Saloon League' and increased contributions to the Permanent Committee. They also spent more on local work. The great need is felt to be that of legislation for general laws." It is the firm belief of your Committee that if the negligent churches who made no returns, and they numbered nearly one-half in the Presbytery, the work actually accomplished would present a much more gratifying report from this large and prosperous Presbytery. "The Presbytery of New Castle," through its Chairman, gives us rather a discouraging report, and states regretfully that most of the churches in the bounds of this Presbytery are located in decidedly PRO-SALOON territory. The Addicks machine politics has relied chiefly upon these pus-sacs of the community Saloons, and the free distribution of liquor to effect their schemes of bribery to maintain their vote. The schedule of points made in the Presbyterial report dealing mostly with national facts, but put in a most forcible manner, gives your Committee to believe that if that represented the unanimous feeling of this Presbytery then its churches are strongly in favor of an entire abolition of the liquor traffic. The most full and exhaustive report comes to us from the Presbytery of Washington City, in which it is said: "We have endeavored to ascertain for the General Assembly's Committee just what special work and funds have been devoted to this cause during the past year by our churches, and find the following: 'Four churches have made no report. From 24 churches reporting 5 churches have contributed $52.63 toward the $166 asked from this Presbytery by the Permanent Committee, to make up the $1,000 recommended by the last General Assembly. Eleven churches gave an aggregate sum of $232.91 to the Anti-Saloon League and other temperance agencies. Ten churches gave nothing toward temperance work. One of the churches had a visit from the Field Secretary of the Permanent Committee.'" Your Committee regrets that no mention is made by any of the three Presbyteries what is done for the cause in Sabbath Schools, or in the Young People's Societies. It is with the coming generation that the great religious conflict must be fought to a finish, and if they are not now enlisted, drilled, instructed, and thoroughly equipped, the victory over the Rum Traffic may be greatly delayed. How far our churches are circulating the literature of the Board seems also to be overlooked. This is a grievous mistake. The power of printers' ink is too well appreciated by the enemy for our churches to lightly esteem, and it is more than an oversight when that literature can be obtained so easily from the Permanent Committee at Pittsburg.

There has been placed in the hands of your Committee a paper from "The Women's Synodical Temperance Association, Synod of Pennsylvania," asking this body to endorse a petition that is formulated by them, and is to be sent to "The International Committee of the Evangelical Alliance," and which reads as follows:

"Dear Fathers and Brothers:

"Believing, as we do, that intemperance and its results constitute one of the greatest obstacles in the way of the Gospel in every land, and having unshaken faith in the willingness of GOD to answer the believing prayers of HIS people, we, as Christian workers, earnestly petition that one entire day of 'THE WEEK OF PRAYER' be devoted to prayer for the removal of the drinking usages of society, and the abolition of the traffic in alcoholic beverages, and of the opium habit and trade."

This has a most inspiring tone in it, the world's week of prayer devoting one whole day, in supplication at the throne of grace for the annihilation of this monstrous iniquity. When once God sees His people in downright earnestness, and a whole world on its knees beseeching Him to come to their deliverance, the day of our redemption will not tarry.

In matters of national legislation, we would call the attention of the Synod to the fact that there is at the present time before the Congress of the United States two important bills, which, if passed, would advance the cause of Temperance materially. And there are the Littlefield and McCumber-Tirrell Bills, which have been favorably reported;—the one seeking to withdraw the shield of the government by interstate commerce allowing liquor dealers to furnish outside the state what they term "Original Packages"; the other is to suppress liquor selling in all government buildings, ships, and parks. So far as the influence of platform utterances, or Temperance sermons can reach our people we would be rejoiced to have these two bills supported, as one of the imperative needs of the nation at the present time.

Your Committee would, therefore, offer the following recommendations:

First. That all the members of our churches within the bounds of this Synod be urged by the pastors and by the Sessions to increase their contributions to aid the Permanent Committee to prosecute their work with success.

Second. That a deeper interest be taken to enlist the attention of Y. P. C. E. societies and other organizations among young people and Sabbath School scholars in the work of Temperance, and where no organized effort now exists to have some systematised plan by which the youth will be thoroughly instructed and more actively engaged in this work of Christian Reform.

Third. That as a synod we most cordially commend the Bureau of Scientific Temperance Instruction, as eminently deserving the moral support and liberal gifts of our people. That the changes proposed in our public schools by "The Committee of Fifty" appointed by the Central Association of Science and Mathematics be discountenanced by our ministers and elders. That the plan of emasculating our present educational laws on Temperance, as proposed by the omitting of the study of Temperance physiology in grades below the second year of high school instruction be discouraged. Passed.

Fourth. That our pastors in their sermons and addresses seek to impress the people of the importance of the present movements to oppose the exportation of intoxicants to heathen countries, and especially the American Beer exports into China, and opium among all uncivilized races. Passed.

Fifth. That the movement of having The Evangelical Alliance set a day apart for prayer on behalf of the success of Temperance, and that God may speedily exterminate the traffic in liquors is heartily endorsed by Synod.

THOMAS C. EASTON, Chairman.

The reports of the Societies, as presented, are as follows:

HOME MISSIONS.

PRESIDENT—Mrs. Milton V. Richards, 2934 Fourteenth street, Washington, D. C.

VICE-PRESIDENTS—Mrs. T. S. Hamlin, 1316 Connecticut avenue, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. John R. Hooper, 1425 Linden avenue, Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. J. B. North, Snow Hill, Md.

SECRETARY AND TREASURER—Miss Gertrude Leonard, 906 Fourteenth street, Washington, D. C.

SECRETARY FOR YOUNG PEOPLE.—Miss Maud Abercrombie, 827 Hamilton Terrace, Baltimore.

SECRETARY OF LITERATURE—Miss Margaretta Barr, 817 West street, Wilmington, Del.

SECRETARY FOR FREEDMEN—Vacant.

We find there are in Baltimore Synodical 117 Auxiliaries, a gain of 4; 78 Young Peoples Societies and Bands, a gain of 8; 68 C. E. Societies (this, however, is not the full number, we feel sure); 18 Jr. C. E. and 35 contributing Sunday Schools.

The gifts for the year amount to $12,998.17, an advance of $977.62, or about 7 per cent. The advance by Presbyterials is as follows: Washington, 3 per cent.; Baltimore, 5 per cent.; New Castle, 12 per cent., showing that all of them have gone ahead in their contributions. $569.67 of the above amount was for Freedmen, making it $48 nearer the hoped-for $600 than last year.

The value of boxes was $6,080, showing a gain about equal to that made in 1905 over the previous year—$430. Not only has the work grown as concerns the money given, but what is equally important, new societies have been organized, which means that new women are learning our country's needs and how to meet them. While no united effort has been made for the foreigners in our Synod's borders, we must at least be thankful that the matter has been brought more and more to the front these last few months and pray while we work that the many and able pleas made by the secular magazines and daily papers may so impress the Christian Church with her duty, that in a very little while the missionaries that Mrs. Walker begged for last year at this time for Baltimore may be at work.

Is this vast influx of immigrants to America a test from God of the sincerity of those who say, "There is enough to do at home?" Surely their responsibility is a great one just now.

During six months of the year Miss Anna Reid, of the Deaconess' Home, in Baltimore, has visited the churches in our Synod as our Field Secretary, and has proven herself admirably adapted to the work. She organized three new societies, revived two and carried good cheer wherever she went, endearing herself personally to all with whom she came in touch.

We regret that the $1,000 greatly needed for Wolfe Point and the 15 per cent. advance for evangelization and work among foreigners, which was the Synodical's new endeavor for this year, have not been attained, though something has been done for both objects.

As we look out on the fields already white for the harvest, we realize as Christ did, how comparatively few are the laborers, and to-day, with especial earnestness, we can pray His prayer, "Send forth more laborers, O Lord." As we do this, let us also remember the verse on this year's Synodical Program, "The battle (that is the fighting) is not yours, but God's," and notice as well the words that precede it, "Be not afraid nor dismayed."

"There is no chance of failure in any undertaking for the advance of Christ's kingdom or the betterment of our own country if we ourselves fail not; victory and only victory is before us. The work may seem tedious, and achievement far off, but patient plodding, or, if we may, the enthusiastic rush of intense conviction will assuredly bring us to the goal of our desires."—Mary E. James, at the annual meeting.

BERTHA HARLAN, Acting Secretary.

FOREIGN MISSIONS.

We offer the following Twentieth Annual Report with thanksgiving for the increased interest shown by the Societies in the great work of spreading the gospel in heathen lands.

Larger fields are opening to us, and we should be thankful that we are enabled, even in our weak way, to embrace these opportunities of service for the Lord. And while we discuss methods for creating greater interest among the women of our church, let us not forget that more important than all else is to obey the Master's command, "Pray without ceasing."

We look first at Baltimore. The amount of money sent by this Presbytery was $3,908.36, an increase of more than $200 over last year.

Great interest has been shown in the mission study classes. One new society should be especially mentioned, as they organized a Missionary Society before their church building was erected.

Miss Grace Venable, in China, and Miss McCord, in Siam, with Mrs. Graham, in the Philippines, have a large share in the prayers and interest of Baltimore Presbytery—all of them having gone from here.

New Castle Presbytery is especially interested in Mrs. Ernest Hall, of Korea, who went from Wilmington less than two years ago.

She writes she is struggling with the language and hopes soon to be able to work with the women and girls.

Miss Mary Johnson, in India, is also under the care of this Presbytery. Boxes are sent these two missionaries every other year, containing personal gifts and many things that are helpful to them in their work. The amount of money sent this year was $1,742.93. Increased interest is reported in all lines of missionary work.

Washington Presbytery reports an increase of 10 per cent, and over in Young People's Societies, also an increase in the money sent, which amounts this year to $4,835. This money is divided among a number of objects in the Foreign Field, as well as the General Fund.

This Presbytery also has a C. E. Missionary Union, the only one in the Synod. The total amount sent from the Synod was $10,496.29, a gain of $419.49.

We hope next year to come to this gathering with even greater interest and report a larger amount of money. "In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

At the Foreign Executive meeting, held Tuesday afternoon, October 23rd, the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. George G. Henry, of Baltimore; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. George M. Gaither, of Baltimore. Mrs. W. W. Shaw was elected a Vice-President in place of Mrs. Henry, and all other officers and members of the Executive Committee were re-elected.

Mrs. C. B. EVANS, Secretary.

The Synod, by unanimous vote, expressed its hearty commendation of the faithful work being done by the Woman's Synodical Societies, and thanks to God for the grand results which they have achieved. The election of the Officers of the Societies was confirmed.

Synod adjourned with prayer and the Apostolic benediction.

N. H. MILLER, Stated Clerk.

JAMES M. NOURSE, Permanent Clerk.

The Synod's Committee shall consider these reports, and shall recommend to the Synod, at its annual meeting, the total amount to be provided, the part which each

SUSTENTATION
SYNOD OF BALTIMORE
1906.

FIFTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Permanent Committee on Sustentation IN THE SYNOD OF BALTIMORE

OCTOBER, 1906

The Committee would respectfully present its Fifteenth Annual Report to the Synod of Baltimore, in session in Gunton Temple Memorial Church, Washington, D. C., October 23, 1906.

It is with profound regret and sorrow that we report the death of two of the oldest and most valued members of our Committee, Mr. William Ballantyne, of Washington City Presbytery, and Mr. John P. Ammidon, of Baltimore Presbytery, the father of our Treasurer, Mr. D. C. Ammidon. Both of these brethren died in August, 1906. Both attained to a good old age. They had long been connected with the agencies of the Synod, and specially interested in the extension and support of the Presbyterian Church. They now rest from their labors, and their memory is a precious legacy to us.

Rev. B. F. Bittinger, D.D., who represented the Presbytery of Washington City on the Sustentation Committee from its organization, has resigned from the Committee. We very greatly regret this, for we shall sadly miss his punctual attendance at all the meetings of the Committee, his great interest in the cause and his wise counsels. Rev. J. Garland Hammer,

D.D., has been appointed in his place, and we cordially welcome him to share in our labors.

We have no very striking occurrences to report, but there has been steady and faithful work, and some progress. By far, the larger number of the churches have been regularly supplied all the year, and the rest for the greater part of the year. Nineteen churches, grouped in sixteen fields, and two unorganized fields, have been aided in Baltimore Presbytery. Twenty-seven churches, grouped in nineteen fields, have been aided in New Castle Presbytery. Nine churches, in eight fields, have been aided in Washington City Presbytery. Thus fifty-five churches, grouped in forty-three fields, and two unorganized fields, have been supplied with preaching largely through the agency of Sustentation.

These churches are scattered all over the Synod, and represent every condition; the country church; the church in the small town where population and business is stationary; the down-town church, where its supporters are moving away; the work among the foreigners, and the suburban community, full of life, growing rapidly and promising speedy self-support.

Two new churches have been organized in Baltimore Presbytery, Arlington, in a suburb of Baltimore, starts out with fine prospect of success; has 34 communicants and 100 in the Sunday-school. Southminster Church was recently organized in South Cumberland, through the activities of the Presbyterians of that growing city. Ballston, in the Presbytery of Washington City, has become self-sustaining. We congratulate the church and pastor, Dr. Young.

The Home Mission report to the recent meeting of the Presbytery of Baltimore well describes the general condition in the Synod.

“The greatest problem of our missionary work is found in the shifting population of the City of Baltimore and its suburbs. A similar problem exists, to a certain extent, in the country districts. Old churches decline, and a demand arises for new ones, usually along the lines of railroads, both steam and electric. But the needs and difficulties are far greater in the chief city of the State, and they are increasingly perplexing. A congregation in the older part of the city is almost destroyed by removals, and the neighborhood is filled with people who are not easily reached through our ordinary methods of work; perhaps people of foreign birth and of religious training far different from ours. Many of the Presbyterians who remove from the older sections settle in entirely new districts, in the outskirts of the city, where we have no churches. Here is a double problem: to keep up the old churches, and to establish new ones to meet the incoming Presbyterians, and to gather in the churchless people of all kinds. The methods by which we are dealing with this double problem fall painfully short of sufficiency. We too often let the old churches drag along, slowly dying, without adequate efforts to reach the great numbers of men and women around them. With a Gospel surely adapted to all men, we tacitly acknowledge we can only evangelize certain kinds and classes. On the other hand, we fail too often to establish new churches in the new fields; or delay until our own people are gathered into other denominations, and then come into the field to occupy an inferior position. The older churches in the downtown districts should be equipped for work according to their new conditions. The church should be supplied with a competent force of paid workers, such as male assistants to the pastor and deaconesses. The Gospel should be carried to the homes, if the people will not at first come to the churches. Instead of deserting such fields, the church should recognize the opening doors of Providence for more extensive work among the spiritually needy. On the other hand we should not wait for petitions from residents in the new neighborhoods, asking for the organization of churches. The pastors of the churches in the older part of the city, knowing that their work will be cared for by Presbytery, should not hold fast their members who remove to distant sections, but should encourage them to enter into new Presbyterian organizations, and assist in carrying on the work. This double work will call for more money. Yes.

But it is simply a question between giving and using more money, and playing with the work."

The cities are growing. There is a Greater Washington; a Greater Baltimore; a Greater Wilmington; a Greater Cumberland. The Synod should wake up to the real situation. There never was such an open field and such great opportunities for large and useful work. True, it is the business of the Presbyteries to look after the local work, but individual Christians, of wide sympathies and possessed of ample means, could not do a better or more lasting work than to aid liberally in strengthening and enlarging the work of Sustentation and Home Missions within the bounds of the Synod of Baltimore.

The work among the foreigners is meeting with encouraging success.

On November 12 and 13, 1905, a Conference was held in Pittsburgh, Pa., of representatives of the eleven self-sustaining Synods, when conditions and methods of administration were compared and very fully discussed. A whole day was devoted to the work among people of foreign speech. The great majority of foreigners are settled within the bounds of these Synods and their number, accessibility and spiritual needs was a revelation and surprise to us all. The whole conference was very interesting and instructive, and showed how local administration could be conducted successfully in a great diversity of ways. Another conference is to be held in Indianapolis, Ind., on the 12th and 13th of November.

The reports from the aided churches this year are fuller than they were last year, and there is an increase in every item.

STATISTICS.

The average attendance in 47 churches reporting was 3,040. 224 were added on profession and 138 by letter. The total membership is 3,229, and total in the congregations estimated at 4,828; 40 adults were baptized and 170 infants. Fifty Sunday-schools have a membership of 4,700. All the churches have the usual societies. Church edifices are valued at $230,550, and parsonages at $29,200; $9,224 was paid for repairs. Church debts are reported at $35,144. and debts cancelled at $1,555; $17,216 was raised for pastors' salaries, and $11,919 for current expenses.

$3,427 was raised for benevolence, of which $457 was given to Sustentation.

Your Committee has been diligent in trying to get a contribution from every church in the Synod to Sustentation. A large number contributed the amount apportioned to them to raise; a few exceeded the apportionment, and a comparatively small number failed to make any contribution.

The General Assembly has accepted the overtures from the Synod of Baltimore and five other Synods and constituted a Standing Committee to be known as the Committee on Synodical Home Missions, to consider and report on the Home Mission work of the self-sustaining Synods.

RESOLUTIONS.

We recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

1. That the Synod recognizes with approval the general interest shown this cause by pastors, sessions and people, and directs all church officers, who have not been accustomed so to do, to present this cause fully and earnestly this year, and expects all churches to meet at least, the full amount apportioned to them, as an act of loyalty, not only to the Synod, but to the cause of Christ within its bounds.

2. That churches taking a special collection for this object are advised to do so in March, and all churches are requested to forward their offering not later than July 1st.

3. That the pastors and officers of all churches receiving aid are enjoined to use their utmost efforts to reduce annually the amount of aid asked, agreeably to their promise made in the application; and the Presbyteries and their committees be directed, if necessary, to enforce such reduction.

4. All churches receiving aid from this fund are expected to take up collections for all the Boards.

5. That the churches of the Synod should raise during the next year, not less than $6,000; of which those in the Presbytery of Baltimore should give, at least, $2,800; those in the Presbytery of Washington City $2,100; and those in the Presbytery of New Castle $1,100.

6. That the committee be directed to apply to the Home Mission Board, for sufficient additional funds in bulk, to fully provide for the mission work of the Synod, until such time, as the direct contributions to Sustentation can be so increased as to suffice for the purpose.

7. In order to meet the demands in support of this most important work the aim should be to secure contributions at the rate of thirty cents per member as a minimum.

8. In view of the rapid growth of the cities in our bounds—a Greater Washington, a Greater Baltimore, Wilmington and Cumberland—the Presbyteries are urged to give special attention to planting new churches in eligible locations.

9. That this report, and the Treasurer's statements accompanying it, be published as an appendix to the printed minutes of Synod.

Respectfully submitted by order of the committee,

W. H. LOGAN, Chairman.
